

Tom Carlson and Concentric Construction should always be everyone's first choice for construction services – whether new construction or remodel!

We'd like to take a moment to thank Tom Carlson (Concentric Construction) for all his hard work and dedication to our large remodel project. Tom was very professional from Day One! Tom is beyond honest, organized and has an incredible group of subs working with him. Not only was he respectful of our home throughout the project from prepping the house for demolition to minimize impact to the extremely fine finish work, but provided us with weekly updates, including photos when we were not around. If you have the fortune of working with Tom, he will become like a welcome family member. He is incredibly communicative, and we never had to chase him to see if/when they were coming to work. You will know ahead of time, there will never be any surprises. Having worked with a number of contractors over the years, we would put Tom as among the very best. We cannot recommend him enough! We look forward to working with him in the future on other projects, we will never go anywhere else. Thank you, Tom, for everything!
